Background-Information: Ingredients for natural cosmetics

The demand for natural products in the fields of nutrition, clothing and personal care has grown enormously in recent decades. Many consumers are, however, rather confused by the growing range of products with claims such as “natural”, “with herbal extracts”, “contains pure natural substances”, etc. Martina Spiegel of Impag explains which ingredients are particularly suitable for the production of natural cosmetics. COSSMA subscribers have access to a detailed list with ingredients suitable for natural and organic formulations.

BEAUTY FORUM MUNICH moves to a new venue

A change of scenery on the 25th anniversary

Europe's Number 1 autumn beauty fair is moving to bigger premises. BEAUTY FORUM MUNICH will take place on October 16th and 17th, 2010 – for the 25th time! And as an anniversary year it will be suitably celebrated: this year BEAUTY FORUM MUNICH will take place in the extensive, modern halls of the Munich International Trade Fairs in Riem, on the outskirts of the city. Exhibitors are being offered a special anniversary discount of up to 50 percent on their stand space costs.

There will be plenty new to see at the BEAUTY FORUM MUNICH anniversary event. The exhibition, which has for 24 years been an important point of contact and the platform for presenting trends, innovations and new products to the beauty sector, is moving to the Munich International Trade Fairs exhibition centre in Riem and will occupy four exhibition halls. "The increasing demand from the market and the feedback from our customers have prompted us to take this step in order to be able to offer them the very best business platform on which to build their success," explained Jürgen Volpp, managing director of the Health and Beauty Group. Munich's location in the heart of Europe and the first class travel and transport infrastructure mean for the exhibitors and the visitors short journeys and transport times. Munich has Germany's second biggest airport and so offers excellent continental and intercontinental connections.

As one of the world's most modern exhibition centres the New Munich Trade Fair Centre offers more space, a first class infrastructure, lots of car parking, a simple, direct route, and optimum transport links, as well as extremely modern halls creating a pleasant atmosphere – ideal for presenting the latest beauty trends.

In line with the well-tested maxim "Treasure what's good, but welcome the new!" BEAUTY FORUM MUNICH offers, in addition to the traditional areas of cosmetics, foot care and nail design, new sections devoted to such themes as Wellness & Spa, Medical Aesthetics and Natural Cosmetics, and in this way is becoming a real magnet for trade visitors. Potential exhibitors please note: in this anniversary year there is a special exhibitor discount of up to 50 percent being offered.
