In this special on the subject of "lotions, creams and exfoliants" we have collected 23 formulations from 15 different ingredients suppliers. For those who are particularly interested the formulations can easily be downloaded from our web site. You will find the access codes for this month in the Internet button on this page.

And those who would rather have something a bit more peppery may find the Smooth Salt & Pepper Scrub from Croda more appealing.

In January 2009 the spotlight will be on formulations for sun care products, and in February we will be turning our attention to facial care products. All of the information published here has been carefully assembled, however neither the publishers, nor the developers of these formulations, can accept responsibility for their safety or accuracy.
