NYC Dermatologist shares skincare advice he gives his patients

- What is DHA and how often should I apply?

Lower concentrations of DHA, the ingredient that creates a tan pigment in sunless-tanners, combined with moisturizers make it easy to incorporate self-tanning into a daily skin routine. Using these subtle formulas also creates a gradual glow that looks natural and healthy.

How do I avoid streaks?

When applying sunless-tanner, prep is key. It's essential to exfoliate and moisturize to ensure an even, streak-free result. Using a formula containing exfoliating and skin nourishing ingredients can eliminate steps from the process and save you time.

Will it make me breakout?

If you have acne-prone skin, take note of the ingredients as some can be comedogenic and cause clogged pores. Bronzing makeup like powders and creams can have similar side-effects, but formulas with alpha and beta hydroxy acids to exfoliate and clear pores can help.

BRAND

Korean women use an average of 27.4 kinds of cosmetic products each month...

Grownup women around the world use an average of 4-5 products. How does your vanity look? Tens of cosmetic products are newly released each day and boast new ingredients and amazing efficacies, but aren't you tired of the endless flood of miracles and magic spells? Thank You Farmer has been born for you as you have been looking for a product that gave you all that you needed by itself..

What's Farmer?

Thank You Farmer will not promise miracles and magic spells.

Even the most popular cosmetic cannot turn a 40-year-old woman's skin back to baby skin. Even the most expensive products cannot correct your skin's problems in a week.

However, using good products regularly will help your skin restore its natural strength and slow the aging of cells. The way of becoming healthy and beautiful naturally and gradually without burdening the skin - This is the honest promise of THANK YOU FARMER.

Look of Farmer

It is simple yet elegant. It is sophisticated yet not cold. It is practical yet beautiful. The best design is completed when it is a perfect match with its contents. Just what you wanted with no deficiency or excess. Your style will be completed the moment you meet Thank You Farmer.

Why Farmer

Being a farmer is the most honest job.

Nature pays for a farmer's sweat and a wise farmer knows that there is no shortcut when working with nature. Thank You Farmer makes cosmetics with the heart of a farmer.

We will choose to increase the contents of good ingredients rather than listing the difficult names of ingredients and earn your trust with good quality of products rather than dazzling you with fancy advertisements. We will satisfy you with the results you can see in the mirror rather than instant outcomes. Thank You Farmer will discover the most natural balance your skin wants.

Who's Farmer?

Women who love Thank You Farmer pursue being natural and comfortable.

Women who is stunning and eye-catching even though she doesn't try to brag and always shines with confidence and beauty inside. Thank You Farmer loves them back.

As a passionate professional, she values reasonable thinking and essential values in consumption.

She can find what is good for her rather than following what others think is good. She is also a bold adventurer. She sometimes chooses tough trekking over the comfort of first-class seats or a high-end spa.

She chooses the pleasure of a glass of beer over a field colored by sunset. Thank You Farmer is an obvious choice for her who chooses chic over glamour, self-satisfaction over what others think, and follows her own style, not the trend.

Thank You Farmer pursues to be a steady-seller, not a best-seller.

We wish to be a company that is loved and trusted for generations, not for a fleeting reputation. We will not forget that the best marketing is quality and the highest priority is always people.
